

Final Report/Project Reflection

The Student Engagement Fund (SEF) is something that I didn't really ever consider getting involved with on my own. However, when presented with this opportunity, I'm so glad that I was able to experience it.

The project that I was a part of involved me acting behind a desk, learning to read from a teleprompter, and being able to have fun as a youtuber. These three things are all things that I'd like to accomplish. For my short-term goals, I have a small YouTube channel, but in the long-run, I want to act and be a news anchor. I learned the skills of following a teleprompter, taking direction from superiors, making sure I was hydrated with all that talking, and becoming a character that wasn't myself.

My fellow students who helped work on the project were so encouraging and kind as well, that it was impossible to come onto the set and be in a bad mood. The faculty members involved were also very considerate and wise in making decisions about the project.

Being in front of the camera for this project internally confirmed for me that this is what I want to do. Whether it's acting or broadcasting, being on camera is something that I enjoy immensely, and want to do for a living. So, in a way, I am eternally grateful to the SEF for allowing me to genuinely know what I want to do with my future.
