Burnish your resumé

Add a Southeast Asian Studies minor to a bachelor's degree or a graduate certificate to an advanced degree and pull your resumé to the top of the pile. To learn more, visit the CSEAS website or stop by CSEAS at 520 College View Court. Undergraduates may make an appointment with Outreach Coordinator Julien Ehrenkönig at ehrenkonig@niu.edu; graduate students should contact Assistant Director Eric Jones at iloveroti@gmail.com.

1. Two FLAS opportunities, two deadlines, one application NEW

Now is the time for all good SEAS students to consider applying for a Foreign Language and Area Studies (FLAS) fellowship. Students planning to apply for both a summer 2016 and an academic-year 2016–17 FLAS fellowship can do so with one application. The application and all information on both summer and academic-year FLAS awards are posted on the Student Funding page at the CSEAS website. If you apply for a summer FLAS, indicate on the application that you want to apply for the academic-year FLAS as well; the application and accompanying materials will also be submitted to the academic-year round. Summer FLAS applications are due to the Center by Jan. 1. If you are just applying for the academic-year FLAS, the deadline is Feb. 1. FLAS fellowships are funded by the U.S. Department of Education's Title VI Program of Foreign Language and Area Studies Fellowships. Summer FLAS fellowships provide for the summer study of Southeast Asian languages at any U.S. Department of Education-approved educational institution, especially those in Southeast Asia but also including the Southeast Asian Studies Summer Institute at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Priority will be given to students planning to study in a Southeast Asian country. A list of currently approved programs is posted on the CSEAS website (more schools are currently being considered for approval). The application is posted on the Student Funding page of the CSEAS website. Applications are due to CSEAS Office Manager Rita Miller at ram@niu.edu by Jan. 1. Be sure to print out either the PDF form after filling out or save to your desktop to attach to an email to submit electronically.

Note: In accordance with NIU policy, students awarded a FLAS fellowship will have any financial aid they receive reduced by the dollar amount equal to the fellowship award.

Save it!

When doing your FLAS application, be sure to print out the PDF application form after filling out online or save it to your desktop. Then either send in the hard copy OR attach the saved PDF to an email to submit electronically. Any questions, call CSEAS at 815-753-1771 or email Office Manager Rita Miller at ram@niu.edu.

2. Applications for 2016–17 Neher Fellowship open to graduate students NEW

U.S. and international graduate students are invited to apply for the Center's 2016–17 Clark and Arlene Neher Graduate Fellowship for the Study of Southeast Asia. The fellowship includes a tuition waiver and a $5,000 annual stipend. To apply, students must be in good standing with NIU and demonstrate a commitment to a career involving Southeast Asian studies. Students should be at an advanced stage in their program, either master's or doctoral, and be planning field or archival research in SEA studies. The application is posted on the Student Funding page of the Center website. Applications are due to CSEAS Office Manager Rita Miller at ram@niu.edu by Feb. 1.

3. Second Art History class added to spring SEAS courses NEW

Center for Burma Studies Director Catherine Raymond (School of Art) has added another art history class for spring 2016: ARTH 294, Art History Survey: Arts of Asia, a chronological and thematic study of 6,000 years of art and architecture in the region, including Southeast Asia. Raymond will also be teaching ARTH 701, Material Culture, Sacred Architecture and World Heritage Sites in Southeast Asia (with an undergraduate section for SEA minors, SEAS 490). Other CSEAS associates are offering a wide range of spring classes. In anthropology, CSEAS Director Judy Ledgerwood is teaching ANTH 302/790, Asian American Cultures, and Andrea Molnar is offering ANTH 426/526, Political Anthropology. In history, Assistant Director Eric Jones is teaching SEAS 225, Crossroads of Southeast Asia and HIST 343/SEAS 690 (for graduate students), History of Southeast Asia Since Ca.

1800; and Stanley Arnold is teaching HIST 469/569, The Vietnam War. In political science, Kikue Hamayotsu is teaching POLS 376, Political Violence. Jui-Ching Wang (School of Music) and Ngurah Kertayuda will teach gamelan in MUSE 370/670. All second-semester classes in Burmese, Indonesian, Khmer, Tagalog, and Thai will be offered. For dates and times of all classes, see the full spring schedule on the Center website.

4. The match game: Apply for CSEAS match to Graduate School travel funding NEW CSEAS will match up to $250 in Graduate School travel grants for students traveling to out-of-town (or out-of-country) conferences to present. If you will be receiving Graduate School travel funding, contact CSEAS Office Manager Rita Miller about the CSEAS match. If you are considering applying (next 2015–16 deadlines are Jan. 15 and March 21), you must have completed one year of school with 3.5 GPA or above. See Graduate School website for details on its travel funding; submit applications to Dean, Graduate School, 223 Adams Hall.

5. YSEALI-LOCSEA in KL NEW

Within weeks of returning home, the 21 Southeast Asian young adults who came to NIU in fall for a State Department-funded Young Southeast Asia Leaders Initiative program (Leading and Organizing for Change in Southeast Asia, or LOCSEA) received invitations to attend a YSEALI reunion in the third week of November in Kuala Lumpur. The bonus? A town hall meeting Nov. 20 with President Barack Obama, in Malaysia on the last leg of a nine-day, three-country Asian tour. Five hundred young leaders from 10 ASEAN countries were brought together by the State Department to participate in the town hall as well as three days of breakout sessions on various YSEALI projects in participants' countries. The town hall was hosted by the University of Malaya. YSEALI is a presidential leadership-development initiative launched by the State Department's Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs in 2013 through educational and cultural programs and exchanges. Obama, who spent part of his childhood growing up in Indonesia where his mother, an anthropologist, was conducting research, was relaxed before the group. "These trips are usually all business for me," he said, but every once in a while I want to have some fun so I try to hold an event like this where I get to hear directly from young people like you, because I firmly believe that you will shape the future of your countries and the future of this region." A full text of Obama's remarks is here, along with the entire town hall on YouTube.

6. SEA summer study abroad 2016: Cambodia field school, study abroad in Laos NEW

Ledgerwood

CSEAS Director and anthropology professor Judy Ledgerwood is leading a summer 2016 field school in Cambodia. The program, “Buddhism and Service Learning,” is set for May 27–June 23 in Siem Reap, Cambodia, the home of Angkor Wat. Students will explore Cambodian Buddhism and cultural reconstruction in the post-Khmer Rouge era, learn ethnographic field methods, and be placed with a Buddhist or non-governmental organization group for the service component of the program. The cost is $3,600. NIU undergraduate students may apply for partial funding through the Student Engagement Fund. For information, contact Ledgerwood by phone at 815-753-1771 or email her at jledgerw@niu.edu.

NIU also sponsors Summer Study Abroad in Laos (SAIL), a five-week Lao language and culture program, in cooperation with the San Francisco-based Center for Lao Studies. Dates are June 27–31. Application deadline is April 1. Information on all study abroad programs and opportunities for partial travel funding is available at the NIU Study Abroad Office, 417 Williston. Call 815-753-0700 or email niuabroad@niu.edu.

7. Postcards from Southeast Asia: The Schunemans on tour NEW

Recently, there have been many mysterious sightings in Southeast Asia of what appears to be CSEAS Office Manager Emeritus Nancy Schuneman and her faithful traveling companion (and husband) Bernie doing their own version of The Amazing Race television show. In Bangkok Nancy cozied up with an affectionate elephant, who looked to be giving our intrepid voyager the Heimlich maneuver with its trunk. In Siem Reap, those globetrotting Schunemans were caught on camera in front of Ankor Wat before running off to their next appointment, a reclining lounge chair by the pool at their hotel. And what’s this, next stop the top of Petronas Towers in Kuala Lumpur? Alas, someone forgot to check with the management—the towers were closed. But stay tuned, more adventures in SEA await our heroes as their amazing race continues.

8. Save the dates: Clymer book reception, FLAS deadlines

- Dec. 4: Reception for CSEAS associate Kenton Clymer’s new book, A Delicate Relationship: The United States and Burma/Myanmar Since 1945 (Cornell University Press), 2:30 to 4:30 p.m., Thurgood Marshall Gallery, Swen Parson Hall.
- Jan. 1: Deadline to apply for summer FLAS fellowships NEW

- Feb. 1: Deadline to apply for 2016-17 FLAS fellowships NEW
- Feb. 8: Southeast Asia Club Lunar New Year celebration, 6 to 8 p.m., Cole Hall. NEW
- Feb. 25: Abstracts due for spring student conference NEW
- March 26: Southeast Asia Club spring student conference, From City to Village: Urbanization and SEA. NEW

9. Advanced language programs offer fully funded chance to study abroad

Studying a Southeast Asian language in-country: Highly desirable. Studying a Southeast Asian language fully funded: Priceless. Interested in pursuing your language study abroad? Two programs offer fully funded opportunities to do just that.

- The David L. Boren fellowships and scholarships, an initiative of the national Security Education program, is open to U.S. undergraduate and graduate students to hone their language skills abroad. Grants range from $20,000 for undergraduates to $30,000 for graduate students. The deadline to apply for Boren fellowships for undergraduates is Jan. 28 for graduate students and Feb. 9 for undergraduates. The Boren advisor at NIU is Study Abroad Director Anne Seitzinger; contact her at aseitz@niu.edu. For more information, see the Boren website.
- The Blakemore Foundation makes grants for the advanced study of selected Southeast Asian languages—Burmese, Indonesian, Khmer, Thai, and Vietnamese—by scholars and mid-career professionals. Applications for the 2015 Blakemore Freeman fellowships and Blakemore refresher grants are now being accepted. The grants cover tuition and stipend, educational expenses, living costs and transportation. Candidates must be U.S. citizens with an undergraduate degree pursuing a career that involves the regular use of a Southeast Asian language. See the Blakemore Foundation website. Deadline to apply is Dec. 30.

10. Anthropology Museum gets new name; Hmong exhibit opens in January

The NIU Anthropology Museum, which was officially renamed the James B. & Rosalyn L. Pick Museum of Anthropology Oct. 9, will open a major exhibit celebrating 40 years of Hmong American history in January. The exhibit will focus on the history of life in Laos continuing through the 1953–75 Laotian Civil War (known by Hmong veterans as the Secret War) and prominently feature the oral histories and material culture of Hmong Americans. The exhibit will also spotlight the museum's permanent collection of Hmong textiles. Details on the opening to be announced.

11. Money for study NEW
